SOUTH IN NEED OF RAILROADS

President Finley, of the Southern Railway, was one of the speakers at a banquet at Winston-Salem, N. C., Thursday night by the North Carolina Bankers' Association. Mr. Finley said that the bank and the railway are two institutions that do not participate directly in the production of tangible commodities, and yet they are both essential to the success of every modern business.

"As bankers," said Mr. Finley, "you are familiar with business conditions throughout this State and throughout the country. You are especially familiar with conditions in the Southern States. You know that the greatest need of this section at the present time is increased transportation facilities. As bankers, you know that it costs money to build a railway, to buy cars and locomotives, to lay double tracks and to acquire and equip terminal properties."

Mr. Finley referred to the present unwillingness of investors to buy railway securities, and said:

"The effect of all this has been to bring about an anomalous state of affairs. At a time when the country is prospering as never before, when the only apparent obstacle to further advancement is the lack of adequate railroad facilities, and when the managers of the railways are ready and anxious to carry out comprehensive plans for the improvement of their systems—plans that in the South alone would involve the employment of thousands of men and the expenditure of millions of dollars—the money markets of the world are almost closed to them and funds for the completion of work now under way have been obtained only by resorting to short time loans at rates of interest much higher than could prudently be paid for the financing of any new undertaking."

Mr. Finley said that in States where laws had been enacted, the effect of which would be to cripple the railways, a high obligation and heavy responsibility rested upon railway managers. It was their duty to protect the property in the interest of its owners and of the people. It had been their duty, therefore, to submit the question of the validity of these laws to the courts. This step had been taken in no delinquent or retaliatory spirit, but only after due consideration, and in the firm conviction that it was a duty no less to the people than to the railways. When the courts had passed upon the questions at issue, the result should be loyally accepted by the railways and the public.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than of All Others Put Together.

Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by M. M. Lewis' Drug Store.

THE LATEST CHICKEN STORY

Mr. T. V. Rishell, of this city, contributes the latest chicken story in the shape of an extract from a Roseville, Pa., paper. Also Williams, a chicken fancier of that place, is represented as telling the following remarkable story: "I started my incubator about the time that I thought the winter was over, and a few weeks ago there was hatched out the finest lot of chickens I have ever seen. Every one of them was healthy, and I figured out a large profit. Then we had the snow storms and the cold weather. Those chickens were not hatched at the time the weather acted. They did not die, but acted sort of foolish. The cold weather kept up. Finally those peeps became convinced that they had lost a little of their life, and they began to tell them what to do. Instead of growing they began to get smaller and smaller until they were no bigger than the day they were hatched. They lost all their pin feathers and retrograded until every one was covered with down. Then the amazing thing happened. Hunting up the incubator, the whole lot settled down in the heat, and in less than two days shells had grown over them. I opened an egg yesterday, and, lo and behold, it wasn't as fresh as the day I put it in."—Albion Gazette.

CHILDREN AND CIGARETTES

Law Prohibits the Sale of Them to Minors.

To The Press:—

The attention of merchants in this city is again called to the law which prohibits the sale of cigarettes to minors. One of my pupils, a third year boy, walked into the school room this morning with the vilest of cigarettes still upon him and admitted that he bought them himself.

It should be against the law to sell them to minors, even for others, as they claim very often to buy. But when they deliberately sell them to children, with out even an order from an older person they are liable to punishment, and need to be kept out of it.

Ever since I have been teaching I have tried to instill into my pupils' minds a horror of the cigarette habit, and hope I have succeeded in many cases, but there are a few who claim to be unable to resist the temptation. Think of it! Children of such tender years already enslaved by this vice, morals corrupted and minds injured, as a natural consequence of this horrible habit. It seems to me that the men of the city should protect the children, and this is certainly one method, or means, rather, of protection. Do this for the sake of a few pennies, do that which injures alike the merchant and the consumer.

FOR STOMACH SUFFERERS

Mis-mis is the one remedy for stomach troubles. It is a natural consequence of this horrible habit. It seems to me that the men of the city should protect the children, and this is certainly one method, or means, rather, of protection. Beware of Outlets for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the delicate system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is too often told. The only safe remedy is that from them.

Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting on the mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. BARACCAS 13—BRANNANITES 2

Sunday School Boys Cross Bats.

A very interesting game of baseball was played on the College Athletic Grounds Thursday afternoon and witnessed by a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen. The contesting teams were selected from the Brannan Bible class of the Methodist church and the Baraccas Bible class of the Baptist church.

The game was called at 3:15 o'clock and started off in a most encouraging way for the Brannanites, for they made two runs in the early stage of the game, but no more during the evening innings, for the Baraccas boys got their metal up and played ball to a finish, making the bases with ease amid the encouraging shouts of their supporters.

At the close of the game the score stood Baraccas 13, Brannanites 2. Some brilliant feats were performed by the boys on both sides. The Brannanites picked up and threw to first, Foster's gathering of five in the field, Layton's rapid ingathering of grounders at second were among the features.

Special mention is deserving of Seaver's preventing two flies from touching the ground and the great dispatch with which Hefflin and Jones batted the ball driving Thomas from making the home plate. Hallop pitched a good game.

Mr. Denny umpired and his decisions were fair, accurate and satisfactory to all.

The boys will play again in the near future, as the defeated side still believe they can play better ball.

The participants were as follows: Baraccas—Hefflin, c.; Hallop, p.; B. Jones, s.; Willis, 1st b.; L. Jones, 2nd b.; Wenner, 3rd b.; Metcalfe, c. f.; Thompson, c. f.; Seaver, 1st b.; Brannanites—Merchant, c.; Gouldman, p.; Thomas, s.; Spier, 1st b.; Layton, 2nd b.; W. Marshall, 3rd b.; A. Marshall, c. f.; C. D. Foster, 1st b.; C. Foster, 1st b.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Catarrh is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and lungs, with many annoying symptoms. In this climate there are few who do not suffer from this disagreeable disease, often in chronic and dangerous state.

The one scientific and common-sense treatment is Hyomei, a combination of healing and germ-killing bacteria, which is breathed through a special inhaler that comes with every outfit.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, that is not benefited by the occasional use of a RIFAX. For sale by druggists. The Five cent packet is enough for an ordinary case. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russo-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shined their rifle in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to our greatest men. The individuals as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by M. M. Lewis' Drug Store.

A change in your manner of living may put more change in your pocket.

A little Kodak taken occasionally, especially after eating, will relieve sour stomach, indigestion and heartburn. J. B. Jones, of Newport, Tenn., says three bottles of Kodak cured him of dyspepsia. It is sold here by M. M. Lewis.

De Witt's Little Early Rise, famous little pills.

Sold by M. M. Lewis.
